LIGHTNING PLAYFUL, STORM SEVERELY FELT

Valley Feels Queer Effect of Combination of Elements.

TWO MEN ARE STRUCK
Neither Hurt—Monessen Mill is Scene of Brilliant Pyrotechnical Display

Lightning played queer pranks along the Monongahela valley and some damage was done by the severe storm and lightning combined late Friday afternoon. At Donora Joe Jasso, aged 35, an employe of the Donora Southern Railway, was the victim of shock from lightning. Henry Ramsey, a clerk in the store of H. C. Devore at Monongahela, had the experience of being tossed several feet and left lying prostrate by lightning which struck the Devore store. The store and building were somewhat damaged.

At Donora, Monongahela and Monessen the effect of the storm seemed to be the worst. Jasso was working on the railroad tracks at Donora when a vivid flash of lightning blinded him. He was found lying by the track and removed to the emergency hospital of the Donora Steel works. To the surprise of medical men and attendants he regained consciousness shortly and was taken home, apparently uninjured. He was told to keep quiet for a couple of days and not report for work.

Lightning struck the top of the Devore hardware store, and after breaking a large electric light headed for the basement. Henry Ramsey, an employe was busy there. The electric bolt gently lifted Ramsey and laid him in one corner. That was all. Ramsey found himself uninjured and not even stunned.

At the plant of the Pittsburgh Steel company in Monessen workmen were treated to a pyrotechnical display. Lightning struck the electrical department of the mill and after satisfying itself with a display that would have done credit to a Fourth of July performance rushed into what is known as the subway. Smoke and flame shot out both ends. Electricians were set to work after the storm had passed and continued all night getting affairs in shape.

Traffic was delayed at Donora for an hour or more by washouts caused by the storm on the Monongahela division. P. R. R. Charleroi did not feel severely the effects of the storm which seemed to pass through a cross-country belt.

FORMER CHARLEROI GIRL WEDDED IN MONONGAHELA

A pretty wedding occurred at Monongahela Thursday when Miss Margaret Johns became the bride of D. W. Moore. The bride was a former Charleroi girl. The couple will make their home at Morgantown, W. Va., where the groom is employed.

Picture Specials.

Variety of fine pictures, beautifully framed, Saturday morning, at 50 cents. Woodward's Furniture store.

Jewelry at a reduction at H. Porter's.

Calls Police; Thief Leaves

Monessen Doctor Invents
Workable Burglar Alarm on Spur of The Moment

A would-be burglar entered the home of Dr. W. D. Hunter at Monessen during Thursday night, but he didn't stay long for a particularly good reason.

Dr. Hunter heard him enter at a rear window and listened a moment to make sure of his man. Certainly enough the burglar could be heard at work in one of the lower rooms. Dr. Hunter telephoned from an upstairs phone for the police. They arrived but the burglar having heard the message had gone, leaving the rear door wide open.

ROUTE OF CANAL TO BE MAPPED

Surveyors Will be Put at Work on Lake
Erie Project

After a four day's session, covering all the details in connection with the work of a field survey, the Lake Erie and Ohio River Canal Board, of which Thomas P. Sloan of North Charleroi is a member adjourned Thursday at Pittsburgh.

The members of the commission were in practically continuous session the entire four days. They have made plans for the establishment of offices in the Farmers Bank building in rooms 1503 to 1509 inclusive, where there will be information and literature bearing on the canal for the public use. The offices will be opened August 1. Charles L. Lancaster a newspaper man of Pittsburgh was elected secretary of the commission.

The work of surveying the route probably will begin next week. Two surveying corps, or field parties have been organized and as soon as their equipment is received they will start work. One corps will begin at the mouth of the Beaver river and the other at the mouth of the Mahoning. George M. Lehman, who has been identified for many years with the canal work, was elected chief engineer. This survey work will probably be completed by January.

The canal commission as the guests of Capt. H. C. Fiske, United States Engineer's office in Pittsburgh, inspected, Tuesday, the locks and dams of the Ohio river between Pittsburgh and Beaver river. They will meet in Buffalo in a week and spend a week inspecting the Erie Barge canal, which New York is rebuilding and deepening to a barge stage from Buffalo to Albany.

CONTROLLING DONORA DISEASE EPIDEMIC

An epidemic of scarlet fever at Donora that has been raging the greater part of the summer, with more or less seriousness is being controlled. At the present time it is declared that there are no more than 20 cases of the disease. During the summer probably there have been at least 70 cases of scarlet fever within the borough. It was reported at one time that there were 117 cases, but this has since been denied by health authorities. Two reasons are given for the prevalence of scarlet fever. One is that an inexperienced man has had to serve as health officer in place of Jos. McCune who suffered illness as the result of formaldehyde poisoning. The other reason given is neglect of foreign people who are afflicted to observe proper quarantine precautions.

WELL DIGGERS TAMP DYNAMITE AND NOW ARE WITHOUT SIGHT

Two men were probably blinded for life as the result of a premature explosion of dynamite about 10 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Williams addition to Monongahela.

The injured. JOSEPH CARDANAS, aged 34 years, married; both eyes burned and the sight probably destroyed. JOSEPH BUGOR, aged 36 years, married; both eyes burned and the sight probably destroyed.

The two were engaged in digging a well on the property of Cardanas. They put a shot of dynamite into the hole but it failed to explode. Then Cardanas got into the hole and began tamping down the dynamite using an iron bar for the purpose. Bugor above looked over the edge of the hole and offered suggestions. Suddenly there was an explosion and both men were hurled to a point several feet away, Cardanas being lifted clear out of the hole.

The noise of the explosion attracted neighbors and the suffering men were hurried to the Memorial hospital. There an examination showed that in addition to minor hurts both had received terrible burns about the eyes and it is not believed it will be possible to save the sight of either men.

FINANCE COMMITTEE GETS BUSY ON ELLSWORTH-CHARLEROI DAY

To give things the proper tone and to make the Ellsworth-Charleroi celebration to be held the latter part of this month the big success first planned for a finance committee has started the work of solicitation in the Ellsworth project. They have organized a plan for systematic campaign and will carry it out.

The committee proposes to call on professional and business men within the next few days to ask their material encouragement in the Ellsworth project. They have organized a plan for systematic campaign and will carry it out.

The committee consists of Burgess S. L. Woodward, chairman; R. O. Vetter and J. W. Mathias.

NINE DAY CHAUTAUQUA MAN TO BE HERE SOON

Had Prize
Hens, But—

Monessen Fancier Says He Bought Chickens—Others
Tell Different Tales

Having in his possession half a dozen valuable chickens, which had taken prizes at various poultry shows proved unfortunate for Antonio Ciliderti of Monessen, who was arrested Thursday by the state police. Alvin Denabry a successful chicken breeder of Monessen identified the birds as his and at a hearing before Justice Watkins Ciliderti was held for court. The accused man insisted he had purchased the stolen birds from a negro, but he was unable to name the man or give any accurate description of him.

What are known as the "nine-day men" or the second advertising brigade of the Redpath-Brockway Chautauqua company, are expected to arrive in a few days. They will at once begin the work of bedecking the town with banners and other advertising devices heralding Chautauqua week, which will begin Monday July 20 and continue to and including Sunday July 26.

Colonel Hal P. Denton, general press representative of the Redpath-Brockway company was here Thursday, talked of the Chautauqua movement and discussed local plans.

"The circuit Chautauqua," Colonel Denton said, "had its inception in the west. Two years ago the Redpath people decided to come east, and H. P. Harmon of the Chicago Redpath office was commissioned to get contracts. In 1913 the contracts amounted to 110, eleven of which were in Pennsylvania. So great has been the demand for Chautauqua east of the Mississippi river that four systems are being operated this summer in that territory—two from Chicago, one from Columbus, O., and the Redpath-Brockway Chautauqua from Pittsburgh, making an aggregate of more than 400 Chautauquas.

"System is what enables the Redpath-Brockway people to provide such attractive programs for the modest price asked for a season ticket. For instance, Charleroi is in a chain of 36 towns and cities in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia which will inaugurate Chautauquas this summer. Nine complete outfits including nine big water-proof auditorium tents, nine dressing tents and nine sleeping tents for attendants are required. The auditorium tents are equipped with folding canvas seats of the latest improved design. These nine equipments stay seven days in each town where a Chautauqua is held, thus giving two days for the movement of each equipment from one town to another.

"There are all told about 100 persons in the official program of the Redpath-Brockway Chautauquas in Western Pennsylvania this year. The salient features perhaps are Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus, Pulitzer orator and president of Armour University; Judge Marcus A. Kavanaugh, of the Chicago Superior court; the Ben Greet Players, in Shakespearean plays; the Deane Grand Opera company, the Redpath Grand quartet, Sand's Regimental Band, and others and a debate on 'Socialism' between former Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota and Carl D. Thompson, head of the National Socialist party. These and others make 38 different features for each week in a town."

Typical Freshman.
The college president was entertaining a freshman at dinner, when the conversation turned upon football. To the student's surprise, the president played a thorough familiarity with the game, and proceeded to discuss it earnestly as though it had been a part of his education. Indeed, his knowledge of the game was so complete that the freshman had looked at the youth as moved toward his hostess. "Well, this with President Blank has showed how true it is we never meet any from whom we can't learn something."

M. P.'s Bill Too Big.
The late Sir John Astley, affectionately remembered as "The Mate," was many years ago standing for parliament. A tiresome "heckler" asked him the New Witness, what he thought of Sir Wilfrid Lawson's Wine. "What do I think of Sir Wilfrid Lawson's Wine and his bill?" cried indignantly Sir John. "I don't think of it at all. That's a matter not yours or mine. I can tell you if you like that my own bill was a jolly sight too big."

At a meeting of clergymen a curate was anxious to bring himself under the notice of the archbishop. He informed his grace that he had recently seen a wonderful example of the way of Providence. "Your grace," said the curate, "my aunt intended taking a railroad journey, but missed the train owing to her cab being held up. That very train met with an accident and many passengers were killed and injured. Was not that a wonderful intervention of Providence?" The archbishop looked at the curate and, after pausing a moment, simply said: "I didn't know your aunt."

Improved Slot Machine.
An inventor in Birmingham, England, has produced a slot machine which is said to prevent the extraction of goods by the use of metal disks and coins of less value than those intended to be used. It also rejects rubbish which may be pushed into the slot. The machine is constructed in such a way as to test coins and throw out counterfeiters. If it will do all that is claimed for it this invention will eliminate some of the greatest defects of the present slot vending machines.—The Pathfinder.

Harmony and Hymnals.
In making a new hymnal for all the Lutheran bodies, the general council of that denomination has taken a step in the direction of federation. From sixteen different hymnals a new collection has been culled, which best represents the Lutheran theology.

The hymn book has always been a meeting place of sects. Protestants have no objection to singing Cardinal Newman's "Lead, Kindly Light," and evangelical Christians unite in singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," written by a Unitarian. Music eliminates doctrinal differences. Theological statements emphasize them. Perhaps the chief value of the hymnal is its contribution to church unity. Incidentally it may be said that the melody of church hymns might be greatly improved, as well as the literary value. Many good hymns have been spoiled by poor melody, and others are destroyed by poor singers. The model hymnal has not yet appeared.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Chess.
Chess is known as the Royal Game and deserves the name. It is the oldest of games, having been played in approximately its present form for more than a thousand years; in exactly its present form for centuries. Its devotees are found the world over, England, Germany, Austria, France, Russia, Cuba and the United States being represented in the St. Petersburg tourney. It is a game of pure skill and infinite opportunities for profound thought and depths of resource, and the only objection to it, perhaps, is that it is too serious for a game, not serious enough for a profession. Nevertheless it gives delight to thousands the world over, and as a means for storing up happiness for old age it is probably unsurpassed.

Education of the Heart.
I have read books enough and observed and conversed with enough eminent and splendidly cultured minds, too, in my time; but I assure you, I have heard higher sentiments from the lips of poor uneducated men and women, when exerting the spirit of severe yet gentle heroism under difficulties and afflictions, or speaking their simple thoughts, as to circumstances in the lot of friends and neighbors, than I ever yet met with out of the Bible. We shall never learn to feel and respect our real calling and destiny, unless we have taught ourselves to consider everything as moonshine compared with the education of the heart.—The Scout.

TIRE OUT THE SEA LION

Hawaiian Swimmer Grabbed Tail and Hung On Until Captive Was Forced to Give Up.

Diving off the new municipal pier at Hermosa, Cal., in sight of thousands, George Freeth, noted Hawaiian swimmer, seized the tail of a young sea lion, swimming in the sea, and after a battle that lasted for half an hour hoisted the animal into a boat from which the astonished occupants sprang into the water in their fright.

Freeth's left hand and arm were badly lacerated in the struggle, and patches of skin were gashed from his legs by the animal, which used teeth and flippers in a mad fight for freedom. When the three boys who occupied the boat climbed aboard again one of them was severely bitten on the leg.

Freeth is instructor at the Los Angeles Athletic club, and was giving an exhibition of his prowess as a diver when he noticed a young sea lion in the vicinity of the small skiff containing three young boys.

The sea lion kept close to the boat, and Freeth swam out to the skiff from the wharf. He got aboard the boat, and waited an opportunity when the sea lion was close, then dove after him and managed to catch him by the tail.

Then issued one of the fiercest battles ever seen in the water. One minute the sea lion and man were on the surface of the water and the next they were out of sight, and the big crowd would hold its breath until the combatant were again on the surface. The man, however, managed to tire out the sea lion, as it had a fish line fast in its mouth and the swimmer hung to the tail and the line until it was captured.

Titanic Widows' Money.

Arising out of the loss of the Titanic, several applications under the workmen's compensation act were heard at Southampton (England) county court. It was stated that in three cases the widows of members of the Titanic's crew had married again.

In one case Judge Gye said: "She can have the money, but I shall communicate with the treasury. It seems to me unfair that the children should be deprived of all the compensation when the widow uses it for the purpose of getting married again. Compensation was paid for the express reason that she was dependent on her husband. She is not now."—From the London Mail.

Society Tote in Bronze.

Bronze statuettes of children in the preparation of which several sculptors are now busy, will represent the latest fad in St. Louis society. The subjects are the sons and daughters of some of the most prominent families and they are being modeled as children of 1914, in their everyday clothing and in their most accustomed postures. The youngest of subjects thus far modeled is Edward Mallinckrodt, two years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mallinckrodt, Jr., of 2 Vandeventer place. The child is shown jumping.—St. Louis dispatch in the Evening Post.

Beware of Country Water.

The New York Medical Journal offers an editorial warning to summer tourists, urging them to avoid places where the water is not above suspicion. The reason is that impure water can cause typhoid fever, go home to bed.

Not Disturbing the Bass.

The owner of a private lake was not a little agitated to see a man composedly fishing in the pond right beneath the immense sign prohibiting trespassing. With hasty steps, the irate owner hustled for the water-side. "Look here," he explosively exclaimed, "can't you see that sign? Don't you know you are trespassing? I want you to distinctly understand that this lake is privately owned, and is not permitted!" "Just a moment, my dear sir," was the calm rejoinder of the fisherman, as he withdrew his line and rebaited the hook. "Would you mind telling me what kind of fish you stocked the pond with?" "I stocked it with black bass!" cried the excited owner, "and I don't propose—" "That's all right, sir," interjected the fisherman, casting his line. "There is no occasion to worry. I am fishing for plike."

AMONG THE THEATRES

COYLE-CHARLEROI

Chief among the attractions at the Coyle theatre this week was "The Isle of Abandoned Hope." This was an extremely dramatic picture with William Clifford in an important role. The picture which was made in Honolulu was made impressive by the tropical beauty of the country. Another good picture was "The Pursuit of Hate" dealing with an interesting story. "Jim" an intensely dramatic picture was the visualization of a poetic aspiration charmingly and vividly portrayed. Other good pictures were "Hubby to the Rescue" and "The Cure." On Saturday an interesting melodrama "The Baited Trap," with the famous King Baggott playing an important part will be shown.

PALACE-CHARLEROI

At the Palace theatre this week a pleasing feature of the program was the vocal selections rendered by the well known tenor, Louis Brusa. Mr. Brusa sang songs of the higher class that were illustrated with appropriate pictures. One of the chief attractions in the way of photoplays was the six reel picture, "A Mother's Love," which was shown on Monday evening. In this picture Miss Marion Leonard, the famous emotional actress played the lead in such an effective manner that the picture held interest from the beginning. The sacrifice made by a young girl in granting her father's last request was the story shown in the picture. At the Palace theatre two new machines used in the showing of pictures have been installed within the past week. Clearer pictures are the result.

LYRIC-CHARLEROI

A number of special attractions formed the program for the week at the Lyric theatre. On Monday a two part comedy picture, "Too Many Husbands" presenting Sidney Drew, the popular actor, was one of the most pleasing pictures that entertained the patrons of the local playhouse. A sensational drama that held the audience as if spellbound was "Chasing the Smugglers" a two part picture. In each foot of reel that was shown something of daring and skill was presented. In it Carlisle Blackwell one of the favorites played an important part. "The Soul of the Desert" was another excellent picture by the Biograph company. On Tuesday Francis X. Bushman, winner of the Ladies' World Hero contest was seen at his best in a drama by the Essanay company, "Ashes of Hope." Other good pictures of the week were "Iron and Steel" a sensational drama, "The Call of the Tribe" an interesting Indian picture and "Tangled Tangles" a comedy.

GRAND-PITTSBURG.

Rural drama has always been popular in Pittsburgh and indeed, all over the United States. There are many examples in confirmation of this assertion. Consider for instance, "Way Down East," "The Old Homestead," "Sky Farm," "Shore Acres," "Dairy Farm," etc. It is a good sign of the times, too that the rural drama is not passing. As truly rural as "Way Down East," as faithfully real as "The Old Homestead," and as dramatically thrilling and interesting as any play of recent years, "As Ye Sow," which the Harry Davis Players will produce in the Grand Opera House the week of July 13 is a drama of the countryside in which the appeal to human nature is irresistible. William A. Brady gave "As Ye Sow" its first presentation and after a long run in New York City presented it on the road. It played one engagement in Pittsburgh at the Alvin Theatre, where the price of seats was two dollars. One does not have to speculate far ahead to conceive the moral of "As Ye Sow." It is found in the title and it is taught, not like a pulpit text, but by the force of example through events of everyday life. Its whole enactment is an epitome of the natural school of acting. Its people are plain-spoken, matter-of-fact folk who do not talk in maxims or parables but straight from the shoulder. There are three acts in "As Ye Sow." Its dramatic personal will provide character studies for every member of Mr. Davis' excellent company, presenting Miss Frances Nordstrom, the exceptionally clever leading woman who made her debut this week in "The Bishop's Carriage." Her support includes: Mr. Lynch, Mr. Powell, Mr. House, Mr. De Forest, Mr. Perry, Miss Morland, Miss Avery and others. Two performances will be given each day, matinees starting at 2:15 and the evening performances at 8:15.

A man with a million dollars seems to think he has to work hard. The prevailing opinion is that, if he thinks that, the truth is not in him.

REVEAL SECRETS OF OCEAN

Scientist Has Invented New Method of Sounding Depths With Accuracy—Submarine Monsters.

The prince of Monaco, himself a student of oceanography, has presented to the Academy of Science a paper in the name of another Frenchman, Alphonse Berget, showing a method of sounding sea depths with great accuracy, no matter how wide the course of the sounding might be in reaching the bottom.

The new sounding apparatus invented by M. Berget is based on the use of mercury in an instrument similar to a thermometer, except that the mercury is caused by pressure instead of heat. The inside of glass tube wherein the mercury is placed is lined with silver, which eaten away by the mercury up to point where the latter is forced by pressure of the water. The apparatus used is graduated beforehand by means of hydraulic pressure.

Another new fact in oceanography pointed out to the savant assembly the prince of Monaco was a discovery made by M. Joublin, that the further one descends into the depths of the sea the more formidable are the monsters encountered, and the depth which deep-sea monsters live in is practically gauged by the length of their teeth and their general fighting power.

The prince found explanation of this in the fact that sea vegetation diminishes as the depths increase, and that the submarine monsters are forced more and more, therefore, to live by eating one another, as all other means of sustenance fails, and are armed by nature with proportionately terrible weapons.

RANK CASEY WITH HORATIUS

Comment of Those Whose Opinion Is Worth Heeding Concerning the Two Famous Ballads.

"Casey at the Bat in his own humble sphere deserves to be mentioned as a distant relative of Horatius at the Bridge," said the late Harry Thurston Peck, as quoted by the Little Classics Press, which republishes the baseball ballad.

Literary people are reluctant to see merit in contemporary ballads of "low life," so-called. Casey is really better stuff than its prototype Horatius. Horatius did impossible things. He felled a whole army single-handed then jumped into the river and swam across in a 300-pound suit of lead pipe, cast iron and chain mail.

There is no element of surprise in the poem, either, because everybody expects him to float safely across the river with a ton of steel tied around his neck. And with his harness on his back plunged headlong in the tide.

But Casey is human. He works no miracles. He goes to bat in high favor and springs the surprise by fanning. He put his punch in the last line. "He missed the ball but batted out a literary home-run."—New York Mail.

Checking Up.

A Providence merchant believed thoroughly in advertising. "I get queer answers sometimes," said he, "when I ask my customers, as I frequently do, what publications they saw my ad in."

"As a rule they reply courteously enough, but sometimes they make the question as an affront. 'One pompous old fellow told me it was none of my business. Another advised me to hire a checking clerk. One languid and nonchalant young man referred me to his valet. But I was worse taken back by a roughly dressed customer to whom I put the usual question, 'What magazine may I ask did you see my ad in?'"

"In all of them, sir," he replied indignantly, "did you think, sir, from my appearance, that I read only one?"

First Leading Article.

May 12 seems an important anniversary for the newspaper world because some consider that on that date, in 1791, the Morning Chronicle first brought into being the leading article. It was merely a short paragraph, which stated that "the great and firm body of the Whigs of England, true to their principles, had decided in favor of Mr. Fox as the representative of the pure doctrine of Whiggery," and suggesting as a result that Burke should retire from the house of commons. This paragraph was published in the part of the Morning Chronicle where leading articles afterwards appeared, and for that reason is reckoned the forerunner of editorial comments on the topics of the day.

How London Women Vote.

The house of lords, after two days' debate, rejected Lord Selborne's bill for the enfranchisement of a million women. The picked women of the bill are those who now enjoy the municipal franchise. "Enjoy," perhaps, is a word of too sanguine a complexion. Only 50 per cent of the women entitled to vote at elections for the London county council think it worth while.—Saturday Review.

Thinks He Has Made Discovery.

Prof. T. J. J. See, who believes that he has discovered the hitherto unknown cause of gravitation, is in the government service, being mathematician and astronomer in charge of the naval observatory at Mare Island, Florida. He was commissioned August 1 as a relative of the highest corps of mail.

FORMER PAWVA MAGNATES [?] IN NEW EXPLOSION

It is reported from the east that the new Central league of Pennsylvania, in which Hugh Shannon, Fred Paige and George Needham were interested has collapsed. The baseball players were left in a similar position to the players in the Pawva league when this league blew up. The managers cannot be located and the players are hunting salaries.

It is understood that the promoters of the league got a good pull from the fourth of July double headers. It is claimed that season tickets were sold following the same method used in Charleroi.

WESTINGHOUSE STRIKE SAID TO BE NEAR END

By an unanimous rising vote, 4,000 employees of the three Westinghouse plants in East Pittsburgh Thursday night voted to return to work, in a body Monday morning. The voting was preceded by a concert and addresses. The men were impressed with the fact that by returning as a union they would gain more than by returning separately. The men will all march to the plant on Monday morning and to the departments from which they walked out June 5.

DETAILS TOLD OF WEDDING THIS WEEK

The following account of the wedding of Edgar B. Speers, formerly of Charleroi and Miss Gladys Kelly, of New Castle is reprinted from the New Castle Herald.

Simplicity was the keynote in every detail of appointment at the pretty home wedding in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Martin of Park avenue, Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock, when their granddaughter, Miss Gladys Rebecca Kelly, became the bride of Mr. Edgar B. Speers, manager and editor of the New Castle Herald. Rev. H. J. Whalen of the First Baptist church officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by Paul Browne Patterson, the bride and groom entered the parlor unattended, the bride wearing a handsome gown of white French hand embroidered voile and carrying lilies of the valley and bride's roses. Her going-away suit was dark blue with hat to correspond. After the ceremony Mr. Patterson played the Mendelssohn march.

Pink and white tones prevailed in the decorations, sweet peas and palms being used with pretty effect through the house. About twelve-thirty o'clock the guests were seated at small tables in the parlor and library the centerpiece of each being pink and white sweet peas and the place cards being in hand painted designs of the same colors. An elaborate four-course dinner was served.

Guests at the wedding were immediate relatives, intimate friends from out of town and the T. H. E. girls. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Kelly of Northside, Pittsburgh, but for a few years has made her home in this city with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Martin of Park avenue. She is a general favorite in the younger set and numbers her friends by the score. The groom came to this city from Wheeling, W. Va., with the new ownership of The New Castle Herald and since November 1st has been manager and editor. He is a native of Uniontown and during his short residence in New Castle has won a large circle of friends both in business and social circles.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Speers departed for a honeymoon to points in Maryland and will return in about ten days. About August 1st they will be at home at 1302 Highland avenue.

POLICE CALLED OUT

Never before in this city's history was there seen such a crowd as attended the great sale at Riggs and Riggs shoe store. To prevent a panic we were obliged to call upon the police. It was a scene that will long remain in the minds of all who attended. Goods were carried away in armfuls and the rapid way in which the people purchased proved they found goods marked and selling at the low prices as advertised. Not only did the low prices attract the crowds to this sale but the high class of merchandise offered brought out the best people and the most discriminating buyers in Charleroi. Riggs and Riggs have been in business but a couple of years and the people all knew that at this sale they would find no old out-of-date goods, but a stock fresh and clean and of the best makes on earth. To those who were turned away and could not get in we wish to make it known that many extra salespeople have been engaged to meet the demands and all will be served, so get in line tomorrow morning and join the procession and get your share at the store and stand of RIGGS AND RIGGS, 431 McKean Avenue, Charleroi, Pa. G. W. Groves & Co., in charge. 5-1

ELECTRIC SPARKS

A woman can chase an ordinary man all she wishes and never get newspaper publicity, but let her chase a man who is a thief and watch developments.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A certain well known young man who was not any too familiar with the up-to-date complications of a modern telephone office was somewhat puzzled to learn of a department referred to as "Information." Not having much occasion to use the phone he failed to ascertain just the exact use for this department.

One day he was called upon to locate the address of a certain gentleman who was traveling the state as a speaker for a political party. He looked through all the books and newspapers without avail. Then he hit upon a plan.

To the phone he hastened. "Information!" he called to the operator. Getting the girl of that department at the other end of the line he said: "Tell me please, where to find W———, the political speaker." And the funny part of the story is that she did.

Any more it takes a pretty shrewd sort of writer to get what is commonly referred to in newspapers as "free advertising," and there is one advertising manager in the United States that fully appreciates this fact. He

PICNICS

BOOKED AT PARK

Two picnics will feature next week's attractions at Eldora park. These will occur after the week is started on Sunday with a band concert by the Donora Steel Works band, one of the best known musical organizations of this part of the Monongahela valley. The band will appear and give the usual afternoon and evening recitals and have prepared a program of unusual excellence in musical numbers.

The first picnic of the week will take place on Wednesday, when the Hebrew Ladies' Aid society of Monessen with their guests will gather at the park. This event will be one of the enjoyable affairs planned by this Monessen society during the season, and promises to be the means of bringing out a large crowd.

The second picnic will come from Roscoe and Fayette City, and will be in the nature of an annual affair. is the man who gets out the "dope" for the San Diego exposition which is to occur in 1915.

This writer sends out every few days a lot of material to the newspapers, and shows talent in the preparation of it. His latest is a letter for press attention addressed supposedly to a friend. This is the postscript:

"Note the delicate, adroit way in which I insert an adv. for the San Diego exposition in the midst of pure reading matter! I get paid for that."
